

Clean room training centre planned for 2019

Piepenbrock at Cleanzone

(Osnabrück/Frankfurt am Main, 24.10.2018) Taking place on 23rd and 24th October in Frankfurt am Main is the Cleanzone trade fair. Piepenbrock will also be represented at the important trade fair covering all areas of industry. This year, the family business will be presenting not only its extensive range of clean room services. Emphasis will also be placed on the opening of the company's own training centre for clean room cleaning, which is planned for mid 2019.

Operators of clean rooms as well as visitors from pharmaceutical and medicine technology, microtechnology, research institutes and service companies are expected at the Cleanzone trade fair. Piepenbrock will be presenting its broad range of services and innovative procedures in clean room cleaning at the shared stand of the German Cleanroom Institute (Deutsches Reinrauminstitut DRRI). "We're looking forward to showing visitors further developments in our highly specialised industry", says Norbert Gürke, Head of Clean Room Cleaning at Piepenbrock.

All-round service at the highest level

The spectrum of what Piepenbrock, the clean room specialist, offers is very broad: from contract cleaning of all classes of clean room in accordance with ISO 14644-1 and the GMP directives to specialized cleaning and sluice and laundry service – including all of the necessary documentation. "Our customers value above all the three important benefits of our all-round service: our high level of expertise in clean room cleaning, the individually-tailored concepts and the extensive range of services", says Gürke in highlighting the strengths of his company.

Training centre for clean room cleaning

Piepenbrock will also be presenting its planned training centre for clean room cleaning at the trade fair. It is part of the Piepenbrock training centre in Osnabrück and is expected to be completed by mid 2019. With two clean rooms that comply with ISO and GMP requirements including sluice areas, the training centre will teach individuals about the correct course of action in clean rooms under realistic conditions. "We are aware of the great amount of responsibility and the challenges in clean room cleaning. It is therefore our aim to create an optimum training environment", emphasises Norbert Gürke. "We want to sensitise our staff in the most effective way and facilitate a comprehensive understanding of the clean room."

Theory and practice closely interlinked

The multifunctional training centre will occupy more than 160 m² and meet all of the relevant guidelines. Reproduction of the ISO clean room offers a raised floor, in the GMP room wiping techniques can be taught on a pharmaceutical floor with relevant channel to the wall connection. Staff can practice how to dress correctly and learn about the hygienic requirements in the sluice area. Optimal training on cleaning techniques for ceilings, walls, floors and fittings as well as the adequate use of cleaning agents and materials will also be given. "We will arrange the various areas in such a way that theory will be followed by practice immediately after the content has been delivered", explains Gürke further. "Our training centre will simulate original conditions in order to teach individuals the correct course of action in the clean room with lasting effect."

About Piepenbrock

The Piepenbrock Group has been an owner-managed, family-run business since it was established in 1913 – now in the hands of the fourth generation. Piepenbrock provides support to its customers through a broad range of services, for example in the areas of facility management, cleaning service, security and maintenance. The affiliated companies LoeschPack and Hastamat are successful in packaging machine construction, while Planol enjoys success in the production of chemicals. About 800 sites and 70 branches as well as a workforce of 26,600 make the company a reliable partner. Piepenbrock is serious about sustainability and takes responsibility – economically, ecologically and socially. This is evident, for example, by the company's environmental programme "Piepenbrock goes green" and its close collaboration with Plan International Deutschland e.V. (child welfare organisation).
