

New Services on Offer

We are continuously expanding our range of services to make your trade fair preparations easier. You can find out what is new right here.

Perfectly prepared meetings with our equipment and catering packages

Why go to the trouble of booking everything separately when you can easily book equipment and/or catering at the same time as your meeting or conference room.

You get everything from a single source – and it is all perfectly prepared for you. This means you have more time to respond to individual customer requirements.

Choose between two equipment packages and three catering offers to find the perfect combination for your individual needs. You will find more details on these packages in our flyer.

If you have any questions, the Room Rental team will be happy to assist you:

Phone +49 69 75 75-35 65

Email: raumkoordination@messefrankfurt.com

Download order form

You can order fire extinguishers and software for managing stand personnel and hotel accommodations easily using the Shop for Exhibitor Services.

Stand personnel and hotel accommodation management made easy

Simplify and streamline the coordination of your stand personnel and their hotel accommodations. Your benefits:

Reduce hotel costs – with straightforward management of room blocks, rapid response times for return deadlines and by minimising cancellations.

Save time – allowing your employees to register themselves simply and independently helps to avoid registration errors.

Maintain an overview – get information on booking status in seconds.

Excel lists and ad hoc arrangements are a thing of the past. Now you can truly make your job easier by working with “GET Easy”, the employee and hotel accommodations management software from GALL. The web-based participant management system guarantees that the entire booking and room block management process for stand personnel runs smoothly.

You will find more information in our flyer – you can also watch our video.

Fire extinguishers for your safety

“AB-Schaum” foam extinguishers are the perfect fire extinguishers for your stand. Convenient and easy to operate, they are ideal for extinguishing incipient fires of fire classes A (solid materials such as wood) and B (liquids such as petrol).

Their outstanding fire-extinguishing performance is achieved using a newly developed organic foam that contains significantly less fluorine – meaning it is much better for the environment. In addition, the foam can be removed easily after the fire has been extinguished.

The Messe Frankfurt Technical Guidelines mandate extensive fire protection measures in order to ensure that high standards are maintained. One rule that is universally applicable mandates that there be at least one fire extinguisher at every stand. Depending on the stand size and the specific situation, it may be necessary to keep multiple fire extinguishers at the stand.